CRAFT HAPPINESS IPA PROJECT CELEBRATION OF LITERACY

Thursday, September 7 | 5–9 p.m.
Foothills Brewing, 638 West Fourth Street

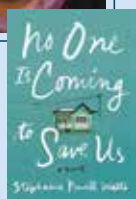

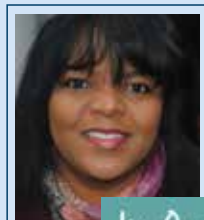

Visit Bookmarks and our Fourth Street neighbor, Foothills Brewing, on this opening night to celebrate Bookmarks' Thirteenth Festival. Try Bookworm IPA, Foothills' featured September beer, that builds awareness around literacy. 2017 Festival authors—and bestselling local Winston-Salem authors—will be at Foothills and Bookmarks throughout the evening!

Foothills Craft Happiness IPA Project's goal is to craft superior IPAs every month, and they will donate a portion of the beer's proceeds to the nonprofit that serves that need. Bookmarks is proud to be September's nonprofit!

A FICTION READING AND Q&A with Award-Winning Author, STEPHANIE POWELL WATTS

7 p.m. | Wilson Commerce Ballroom, High Point University
Stephanie Powell Watts' debut novel, No One is Coming to Save Us, is an African American retelling of The Great Gatsby set in NC. It was chosen as the inaugural selection for the American Library Association's Book Club Central.

BE SURE TO VISIT Bookmarks' NEW HOME

634 W. Fourth Street #110

Stop in during the Festival weekend!
See Winston-Salem's nonprofit independent bookstore and gathering space and enter to win great raffle prizes!

North Carolina Writers' Network Presents

SLUSH PILE LIVE!

10–11 a.m. & 4–5 p.m. | Downtown Stage

This is an interactive event for aspiring writers to get immediate feedback on their work from editors and agents.

Here's how it works: A panel of editors and agents will listen to the submissions being read out loud and raise their hands when they hear something that would make them stop reading. The panel will discuss the sample, offering constructive feedback. All anonymous—all live! Those interested in having their work read should bring a hard copy of up to 300 words of prose from a single work, typed, and double-spaced. No names should appear on the submissions. Please bring your submission to the Information Booth by 9:30 a.m. for the 10 a.m. program or by 3:30 p.m. for the 4 p.m. program. Submissions will be chosen at random. Not all submissions are guaranteed to be read due to time limits.

SPANISH & ENGLISH STORYTIME

11:45 a.m.–12:15 p.m. | Winston Square Park

Presented with support from Qué Pasa

PORTRAIT ARTIST: ERIK HUFFINE

10 a.m.–1 p.m. | Near Winston Square Park

Free caricatures will be done by this local artist for attendees.

FLASH FICTION WORKSHOP

with STEVE CUSHMAN

1:30–3 p.m. | Sawtooth School for Visual Art, Studio 206, 251 North Spruce Street

Learn how to write a satisfying story in less than 1,000 words.

GENERAL INFORMATION & FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Where is the Festival?

The Festival will take place in the Milton Rhodes Center for the Arts and various surrounding venues on Spruce, Holly, Poplar, and West Fourth Streets. For GPS directions, use 251 North Spruce Street, Winston-Salem, NC 27101, and see the Festival Map for parking information. Public transportation runs throughout downtown Winston-Salem, and the bus terminal on Fifth Street is within walking distance. Please visit the Winston-Salem Transit Authority website for more information. Addresses of additional Festival event venues are detailed on pages 4–9. Information and directions will be sent by e-mail to all ticket holders.

Where do I park?

Parking locations are listed on the Festival map and signs will be posted. Note that the large parking lot in front of the Milton Rhodes Center will be used for Festival events from 5:30 p.m. on Friday, September 8 through 7 p.m. on Saturday, September 9.

How much does Bookmarks Book Festival cost? How do I get tickets?

Almost all Festival events are free and no tickets are required. Ticket prices (for paid events) are listed by the event description. Tickets can be purchased online at bookmarksnc.org, via phone at (336) 747-1471, or in person at Bookmarks' nonprofit independent bookstore and gathering space at 634 W. 4th Street in downtown Winston-Salem for the few events that do require tickets. Ticketed events typically sell out long before the event, so don't delay!

Do I need to register for the Festival events?

All readings and panel discussions are on a first come, first served basis unless otherwise indicated as ticketed or reservation required.

I am coming from out of town. Is there a hotel nearby?

There are several hotels within walking distance of the Festival site. For a complete list, visit the Winston-Salem Visitor and Convention Bureau. We also have a "Go Behind the Pages" Weekend Package available at the Historic Brookstown Inn, which includes two tickets to an event of your choice, meal vouchers for Festival food trucks, Festival goodies, a bottle of Raffaldini wine, and more. Information can be found at bookmarksnc.org.

Is there anything to eat or drink at the Festival?

The central location of our Festival allows access to many downtown restaurants. Food trucks and vendors will be on site Saturday, and a food court area will allow attendees to sit and enjoy lunch in the middle of the festivities. For a complete list of food vendors, see page 2.

What happens if it rains?

The Bookmarks Festival continues—rain or shine! In the case of rain, we will move all outdoor events inside. Detailed maps and rain plan directions will be available throughout the Festival site and online, and volunteers will be stationed to direct and assist Festival attendees.

Are there events for families or children?

Family-friendly events are noted in the program and children-specific authors will have suggested age levels listed in the author biographies portion of the Festival program and website. Though children are not prohibited from attending other events, please be aware that not all author events will be appropriate for children in subject matter or language.

Are the venues handicap accessible?

Yes, all venues are handicapped accessible.

Can I get books signed?

Booksignings are held throughout the Festival day at the Booksigning Tent located next to the Festival Bookstore Tent. Most authors are scheduled to sign books immediately following their presentation, but please check in the author biography section for exact times. Most authors will sign books brought from home or their previous titles in addition to the new book they are here promoting. Don't want to wait in line? Preorder from Bookmarks by August 27, 2017, and we'll get your books personalized and signed for you! Books will be available for pick up at Bookmarks on the Tuesday after the Festival.

Can I buy books from Bookmarks?

Yes! Prior to the Festival, books can be purchased at Bookmarks' nonprofit independent bookstore at 634 W. 4th Street or online at bookmarksnc.org. On the day of the Festival, all books by Festival authors can only be purchased from the Festival Bookstore Tent located in the large parking lot across the street from the Rhodes Center. Bookmarks' new home and nonprofit independent bookstore also will be open throughout the Festival. It holds over 14,000 books, book-inspired gift items, and signed books from past events. Profits from all book sales fund our mission of connecting readers with authors and books.

Can I purchase a Festival t-shirt?

This year's Festival t-shirt is designed by Michael Fry based on his book How to be a Supervillain. T-shirts are available only inside the Festival Bookstore Tent in sizes 12 month – adult XXL.

Can I take pictures with the authors?

Many authors will be glad to pose with you and your book, but please ask for permission first. If you post your pictures to social media, please tag @BookmarksNC. No recordings are allowed during author presentations.

I have been asked to fill out a survey at the Festival. Am I required to do this?

While filling out a survey is not mandatory, it is appreciated. Bookmarks relies on grants, sponsorships, and donations to keep much of the Festival free to the public. It is often necessary to provide these funding sources with attendee demographics. It also helps us determine how effective we are at promoting our Festival and how we can make it better in the future. If you complete a survey you will be entered to win one of several survey prizes including gift cards to Bookmarks, tickets to upcoming events, and more! Surveys may be turned in at the event venues or the Information Booth.

Housekeeping Notes —

- > Please be respectful of our authors and speakers during the Festival events.
- > If you must enter or exit a session once it is in progress, please do so quietly and through the back doors of the venue.
- > Please silence all cell phones for the duration of the sessions.
- > There will be time to ask the authors questions at the end of the sessions. Please wait to ask questions until that time. There is additional time for questions at the booksignings.
- > Please do not leave trash inside the venues. There will be trash cans and recycling containers throughout the Festival site.

Presentation: Sat. Sept. 9, 11:15 a.m.–12 p.m. / Downtown Stage

Booksigning: 12 p.m.

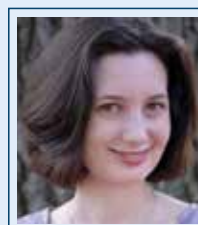

Martha Brockenbrough, a powerful storyteller and narrative voice, is the author of the critically acclaimed young adult novels The Game of Love and Death and Devine Intervention. Alexander Hamilton, Revolutionary is a richly illustrated young adult biography about Hamilton, who is a Founding Father, first United States Secretary of the Treasury, the face of the $10 bill, and the subject of a hit Broadway musical.

Alexander Hamilton: Sat. Sept. 9, 2:15–3 p.m. / Downtown Stage

In Conversation with Megan Bryant: Sat. Sept. 9, 4–4:45 p.m. / Reynolds Place

Booksigning: 3–3:30 p.m. and 4:45 p.m.

Presented with support from Truliant Federal Credit Union

Megan E. Bryant got her start as a children's book editor and now writes for children. She has produced hundreds of storybooks, chapter books, easy readers, and board books. Her debut young adult novel, Glow, uncovers a century-old romance and the haunting true story of the Radium Girls, young women who used radioactive paint to make the world's first glow-in-the-dark products—and ultimately became radioactive themselves.

In Conversation with Martha Brockenbrough: Sat. Sept. 9, 4–4:45 p.m. / Reynolds Place

Booksigning: 4:45 p.m.

Presented with support from Forsyth Woman / Forsyth Family Magazines

Garth Callaghan has been diagnosed with cancer four times since November 2011 and doctors recently gave him five years to live. So Garth set out on a mission: to write 826 napkin notes for his 14-year-old daughter, Emma; one for each day until she graduates from high school. This inspired Napkin Notes: Make Lunch Meaningful, Life Will Follow, which has been featured on media across the country. This inspiring story is currently being developed into a major motion picture by Reese Witherspoon's production company.

In Conversation with Dara Kurtz: Sat. Sept. 9, 10:15–11 a.m. / Reynolds Place

Booksigning: 11 a.m.

Mitch Capel, known as Gran'daddy Junebug, is a storyteller and recording artist. He has been featured at the National Storytelling Festival and the Smithsonian's Folklife Festival. He was Artist-in-Residence at the International Storytelling Center and was invited by the Smithsonian to perform for the inauguration of President Barack Obama. He received the Zora Neal Hurston Award, the National Association of Black Storytellers' highest honor. All ages

Storytelling Presentation: Sat. Sept. 9, 1–2 p.m. / Winston Square Park

Presented by the University Libraries at UNC Greensboro with support from the Pam & David Sprinkle Children's Author and Storyteller Series Fund

Andrew Carroll is the founding director of the Center for American War Letters at Chapman University. He edited the New York Times bestsellers: War Letters and Behind the Lines, as well as Operation Homecoming, the inspiration for the Emmy-winning documentary. My Fellow Soldiers: General Pershing and the Americans Who Helped Win the Great War, is an intimate portrait of General Pershing.

Presentation: Sat. Sept. 9, 10–11 a.m. / Hanesbrands Theatre

Booksigning: 11 a.m.

Presented with support from the Piedmont Opera

Steve Cushman earned his MA from Hollins University and his MFA in Creative Writing from UNC Greensboro. The recipient of a Central Piedmont Regional Artist grant from the United Arts Council of Greensboro, his debut novel, Portisville, was the winner of the 2004 Novello Literary Award. He has also published two poetry chapbooks and a short story collection. His third novel is Hopscotch.

Flash Fiction Workshop: Sat. Sept. 9, 1:30–3 p.m. / Sawtooth Center, Studio 206

Free / Registration Required by 9/6: bookmarksnc.org

ABOUT BOOKMARKS

Bookmarks is a literary arts nonprofit that connects readers with authors and books. Bookmarks produces the Carolinas' largest annual Festival of Books and Authors, an Authors in Schools program, a Summer Reading program, and author and reading events in its community gathering space and nonprofit independent bookstore that opened on July 8, 2017. Throughout the year, Bookmarks brings world-renowned authors to its community, contributing to the unique events that make Winston-Salem the City of Arts and Innovation.

With the opening of its new home at 634 W. Fourth Street #110, outreach will increase to more than 40,000 people in 2017. Authors in Schools outreach and participation will also increase 20% to 8,500 pre-K through college age students having the opportunity to meet and interact with Bookmarks' authors in the classroom. Two thousand books will be donated to students and school libraries with Bookmarks having the opportunity to work with more than 75 organizations in 2017.
